

Here's a break from the generally serious tone of our blogs. The Consumer Attorneys of California recently produced a video entitled 'A World Without Lawyers.' The video dispels myths about lawyers and highlights the important role lawyers serve in protecting consumers. We're not only fighting in court against the powerful interests who attempt to deny our clients a full measure of justice, but we also have to deal with nonstop misinformation campaigns that mislead the public about 'frivolous' lawsuits and the need for tort 'reform.' This video speaks for itself – I couldn't say it any better.
