

Martin & Jones attorneys Forest Horne and Hunt Willis represented two plaintiffs who were injured in bicycle accidents that occurred in January 2014 as a result of Time Warner Cable failing to respond to a down cable. After a two-week trial in Wake County, a jury unanimously returned a \$500,000 verdict against TWC.

TWC failed to respond to multiple requests from emergency personnel to address a cable that was downed during a rainstorm and was laying across the roadway.

Read the article in North Carolina Lawyers Weekly.
